1. Introduction

- 1.1 At Fife Housing Group (FHG) we believe effective tenant and customer engagement enhances our business and helps us to understand how we can improve the way in which we deliver our services. This is why, through this Strategy, we are committed to strengthening the voice of our tenants, owners and other stakeholders to influence the services we provide.
- 1.2 The Strategy sets out our strategic direction for tenant and customer engagement. It reflects our core values and at the same time recognises that the best opportunities for us to succeed are created when colleagues, tenants and all of our customers work together in partnership to achieve common goals.
- 1.3 The Strategy:
- ✓ creates a framework which encourages a diversity of tenants and other stakeholders to actively be involved in shaping, improving and scrutinising our services;
 - ✓ makes sure all tenants and customers, who want to, have the opportunity to have their say; and
 - ✓ aims to ensure what we do is outcome-led

2. Objectives

- 2.1 In reviewing this Strategy we aim to:
- ✓ continue reflecting our values of being: 'accountable', 'firm but fair', open and honest' and 'versatile', in having honest dialogue with residents through various approaches and with a principle of mutual respect and trust
 - ✓ maximise the opportunities for tenants and other stakeholders to work with us in improving homes, neighbourhoods and related services
 - ✓ emphasise our commitment towards working collaboratively
 - ✓ promote the key principle of tenant and stakeholder engagement
 - ✓ learn from good practice seen within other organisations

3. What does 'engagement' mean?

- 3.1 We own and manage around 2,500 properties. We want to ensure we provide the tenants who live in these properties with homes where they choose to live at a rent they can afford.

- 3.2 Fife Housing Association (FHA), which is part of FHG, is also a Registered Property Factor and this means that we manage many of the services, repairs and maintenance and landscape areas for certain owned property. As Property Factor we have a commercial relationship with these property owners.
- 3.3 The properties that we own are also part of a much wider community and each of those communities are a part of Fife. This then means that we have a relationship with the many other individuals and organisations who, like us, are working to keep Fife as a great place to live.
- 3.4 Engagement is about how we ensure that tenants, factored owners, community representatives, local groups and other stakeholders, take part in certain decision-making processes and are able to influence how we deliver services that relate to housing and the surrounding community.

4. Background to our Strategy

- 4.1 We recognise that we need to improve our engagement arrangements to meet our ambition to develop effective co-regulation and strengthen the voice of our tenants and customers.
- 4.2 The Housing Scotland Act 2001 places a duty on us, to develop a strategy that outlines how we encourage and enable tenants to participate in the decision-making processes.
- 4.3 The Housing (Scotland) Act 2010, through the establishment of the Scottish Social Housing Charter, set the standards and expected outcomes that we should aim to achieve, including how we engage with our tenants and customers.
- 4.4 The Scottish Executive Guidance on the tenant participation provisions of the 2001 Act, set out the general principles on tenant participation, information and consultation and whilst this has been overtaken by the 2010 Act with the creation of The Scottish Government it is worth reminding ourselves of some of those statements which remain valid:
 - ‘Tenant participation requires a culture of mutual trust, respect and partnership between tenants, elected and committee/ board members, and housing officers at all levels, working together towards a common goal of better housing conditions and housing services;
 - Tenant participation practice should be seen as a continuous process where information, ideas and power are shared, common understandings of problems are strived for and a consensus on solutions is worked out;
 - Good tenant participation allows all parties to contribute to the agenda. All participants require to have all the information needed to consider issues properly; that information requires to be clear, timely and accessible and to take account of equal opportunities concerns;

- Processes of decision-making should be open, clear and accountable;
 - Adequate time should be given to tenant representatives to consider the issues properly. Tenants should have the opportunity to work out a common view in advance of meeting landlords' representatives; and
 - Participation must meet the requirements of the legislation surrounding equal opportunities. Good practice in participation removes barriers to effective participation arising from ethnicity, geographic location, special needs, language difficulties, age, sexual orientation, or disability.'
- 4.5 The Scottish Social Housing Charter, which was reviewed in April 2017, imposes a statutory duty on social landlords to manage their business so that: 'tenants and other customers find it easy to participate in and influence their landlord's decisions at a level they feel comfortable with'.
- 4.6 Irrespective of the legislative requirements, we see engagement with tenants and other stakeholders as best practice and a normal element of how we should operate. This should be a two-way process of working together and sharing ideas and information, with the overall aim being to improve homes and services for tenants.
- 5. Why do we need a Strategy and where do we want to get to?
- 5.1 We want to continue building on our approach to involving and engaging tenants, owners and other stakeholders where their views help to drive forward service improvements. This Strategy, therefore, provides a wide range of engagement options, including a greater use of technology so that we can be flexible in the ways we respond effectively to both external and internal challenges. We aim to achieve this by:
- building on good initiatives already in place;
 - further developing our scrutiny group, Resident VOICES;
 - continuing to deliver our annual resident inspection programme to obtain tenant feedback on the quality of properties we let to our tenants;
 - continuing to carry out mystery shopping exercises to obtain customer feedback on the services we provide;
 - increasing the options available for tenants, owners and other stakeholders to become involved with us in a way that suits them;
 - exploring ways to use technology to create more flexible ways to consult our tenants and other customers; and
 - looking to recruit new members with skills that strengthen our Board and support our governance structure
- 5.2 In carrying out the above, we will take steps to ensure that all of our engagement opportunities are fully accessible and inclusive and we will make it as easy as possible for tenants, owners and other stakeholders to provide feedback and engage with us.

5.3 We will also provide clear routes into involvement and evidence how we have improved services as a direct result of tenant and customer feedback – this will be done through internal and external newsletters.

6. Delivering engagement and involvement in Fife

6.1 This Strategy aims to be open and honest with all residents to whom we provide a service about the many opportunities that they have to become involved with what we do and how we do it.

6.2 Our aim is to embed resident engagement throughout Fife Housing Group so that each colleague understands and appreciates that they have a responsibility, irrespective of their role, to ensure that proper and timely engagement takes place within our key activities.

7. Strengthening co-regulation

7.1 In order to meet our aspirations for co-regulation we need to meaningfully engage with tenants, owners and other stakeholders to scrutinise and shape the services we provide.

7.2 Our approach is based on the premise that we should be accountable to tenants and other stakeholders for services we deliver. This involves creating a culture of transparency and adopting a robust approach that includes evidence based self-assessment, external challenge and regular reporting to tenants.

7.3 In the paragraphs below we outline the wide range of opportunities that exist within the Group; options which have been developed to take into account the varied backgrounds of residents, their appetite for involvement, and the diverse needs of customers and the communities they live within.

8. Resident-led scrutiny

8.1 Much of our emphasis over the past few years has been towards the development of our scrutiny arrangements, and in particular, supporting, through learning and development, of our scrutiny group, 'Resident VOICES'.

8.2 This team is made up of up to 12 members who are our customers; they may be tenants, factored owners or a community member and places are available on the team for all.

8.3 Being a member of this team involves identifying areas of our services that require review, and then independently scrutinising and examining those services to ensure all customers are receiving a good service. As part of this role they will highlight areas where we could improve or learn from others. They play a vital role by contributing this learning towards our programme of service and standards improvement.

- 8.4 We plan to again carry out a recruitment drive to attract tenants and customers to potentially increase the number of tenants and customers interested in working with us to improve services across a range of roles.
- 8.6 We will also continue to work with Resident VOICES to explore new ways of carrying out scrutiny activities. For instance, one housing association has moved away from the traditional scrutiny model, where scrutiny members select topics for examination, based on performance reports and highlighted weaknesses in service delivery, in favour of a model that focusses on the Group's priorities, and in particular, the priorities of their management team – whilst tempering this with a review of performance - ensuring 'buy in' from Heads of Service and ensuring the Group tackles concerns which are current and relevant.

9. Increase the number and diversity of involved tenants and customers

- 9.1 In order to increase the volume and diversity of tenants and stakeholders to engage with us, we plan to re-establish our Register of Interested Residents. This is a database of tenants and other stakeholders who have agreed to act as a sounding board for the organisation. They will be able to participate in ways that suit them and choose what they get involved in.

10. Consultation

- 10.1 The views of our scrutiny group, Resident VOICES, regarding the content and format of this Strategy were sought as part of this review. In particular we sought feedback from the group on the following:
 - The suggested methods for gaining involvement;
 - How we can best encourage involvement with groups that may be harder to reach or that historically may have felt excluded (this could include residents who have a disability, young people, people from black and minority ethnic communities, for example);
 - Our support for residents' associations;
 - How we seek to assess the satisfaction of those who receive services from Fife Housing Group;
 - Our consultation processes; and
 - The style and readability of this strategy
- 10.2 All suggestions and observations made during this consultation were taken into account as part of this review.

11. Regulatory compliance

11.1 This Strategy complies with the following Charter outcomes:

Outcome 1: Equalities – ‘every tenant and other customer has their individual needs recognised, is treated fairly and with respect, and receives fair access to housing and housing services.’

Outcome 2: Communication – ‘tenants and other customers find it easy to communicate with their landlord and get the information they need about their landlord, how and why it makes decisions and the services it provides’.

Outcome 3: Participation – ‘tenants and other customers find it easy to participate in and influence their landlord’s decisions at a level they feel comfortable with’.

12. Methods of engagement

12.1 We aim to build on the ways we communicate with our customers and we believe that seeking and collating tenant’s views plays an important part in doing this. Our main methods of communication at present are attached in Appendix C.

13. Equality accessibility

13.1 This Strategy complies with equality requirements to ensure fair treatment for all tenants and customers without discrimination or prejudice. At all times we will, therefore, consider the interests of everyone, regardless of sex, faith or religion, maternity, race, ethnic origin, sexual orientation, mental or physical health, disability or marital status.

13.2 Where required, we will provide all necessary documents in other languages and formats (such as large print, audio and Braille).

14. Roles and responsibilities

14.1 The Board has ultimate responsibility to ensure that engagement and involvement processes are accessible and fairly applied.

14.2 The Group’s Director of Housing is responsible for ensuring that this Strategy is consulted on with tenants, customers and board members and for its review, implementation and proper application.

15. Performance management

15.1 Any concerns regarding the adherence to this Strategy will be reported to the Board.

15.2 We produce a range of performance indicators, including our performance in relation to our engagement.

15.3 A minimum of every three years we commission a Customer Satisfaction Survey and this will ask a range of questions of tenants relating to engagement. The outcomes of this survey will be reported to Board, tenants and the Scottish Housing Regulator through the Annual Return on the Charter (ARC).

16. Review

16.1 This policy is due to be reviewed every three years or earlier if a material change or regulatory standard requires this.

Appendix C – Our methods of engagement

Communication - Our main methods of engaging with our customer are summarised below:

- ✓ Via colleagues day-to-day
- ✓ Resident Scrutiny (Resident VOICES)
- ✓ Newsletters
- ✓ Website
- ✓ Text feedback
- ✓ Social media
- ✓ Letters
- ✓ Satisfaction surveys
- ✓ Estate inspections
- ✓ One off ad-hoc events
- ✓ Community Cafés

Consultations - We will continue to consult with tenants where we are considering making a significant change to a service or policy that affects the management or services to their homes – for example, each year we will carry out a major consultation regarding the level of increase that we are considering applying to tenants’ rents. Such consultations will be carried out in a manner that enables tenants the opportunity to provide their view and gives sufficient time for comment. The Fife Housing Group Board will always be made aware of the responses received from these tenant consultations.

Repairs and improvements surveys - We will continue to routinely carry out satisfaction surveys following repair and maintenance work, including the renewal of major components such as windows, kitchens, bathrooms, heating systems etc. This is another opportunity for tenants to have their say – whether positive or negative, all feedback is appreciated.

Resident Inspectors - We have a small team of resident inspectors. These are residents who have a keen interest in property standards and who have volunteered to partner our technical colleagues from time-to-time in inspecting certain properties; making recommendations on how we can improve our services.

Community cafés - We plan to continue delivering a programme of four community cafés each year. These are regular programmed events held across our major tenanted areas, such as West Fife Villages, Kirkcaldy, Methil and Rosyth. They offer tenants and other residents the opportunity to come and talk to us, in a relaxed environment over a cup of tea and a piece of cake, about any issues and also to meet with a range of useful partner agencies such as Police Scotland, Community Safety Partnership and Frontline Fife.

Estate inspections - We plan to continue delivering a comprehensive programme of estate inspections throughout Fife each year. These are organised by our Housing Officers and, where interest in participating in these inspections is expressed, tenants, residents' associations, local representatives and other partner organisations such as the Fife Community Wardens, they can become involved to highlight issues that need dealing with and agree solutions.

- ✓ If you want to join us on an estate inspection in your area please contact your Housing Officer or Factoring Officer who will be pleased to have your input.
- ✓ If you don't have an estate inspection scheduled for your area but there is an issue in your neighbourhood that we need to know about then why not gather a few neighbours together - we will come and visit you to try and sort out the issue.

Mystery shopping - We plan to deliver a programme of 'mystery shops' each year. This is where a customer will carry out what is basically a 'reality check' on the standards that we believe are in place; for example they may be asked to make a telephone call to the office to assess how well an enquiry was handled and then fill in a feedback sheet. Tenants and customers who wish to join as a 'mystery shopper' will receive training to enable them to test out and report back on our approach to customer service.

Editorial Panel - We are constantly looking for ways to improve how we communicate with our customers. We publish a number of different documents including; articles for our website, the tenant newsletter, our Annual Report and information leaflets, to name but a few. We plan to develop an Editorial Panel whose members will work largely from the comfort of their own home, reading and providing comments on draft newsletters, leaflets, letter templates etc. looking particularly at the content, format, readability, language and importantly the tone to make sure the document is useful and is easy to read and understand.

Customer Focus Groups - We aim to build up a group of residents who are prepared to provide feedback to us on our performance through surveys. It's one of the easiest ways to get involved - and probably the one with the shortest time-requirement; it can be done from an armchair, but it is still an important role tenants and customers can play to help support our improvement.

Where residents have agreed to be part of a Customer Focus Group, we will send them a survey every few months which will take around 10 minutes to fill in and they then send it back to us. We will then review the things they tell us and take any necessary action. Members of our Customer Focus Group may also be invited to one-off events and training to build awareness of Fife Housing Group.

SurveyMonkey - This is a simple and quick way of becoming involved with us; whereby tenants and customers are sent short surveys by e-mail or text to respond with their views free of charge.

Shareholding Membership – We will continue to encourage all of our tenants and customers to become members of Fife Housing Group. Those who agree to join us will be entitled to be formally consulted on some key issues and receive invitations to various events and consultations. Applicants for Shareholding Membership are required to pay £1 and be approved by the Board - in return they will receive a share certificate and a copy of our rules.

Board Membership – Any shareholding member who is keen to take their membership further and feels that they have the skills or experience to be involved in the Board of Management may wish to consider applying for Board Membership. Before deciding on submitting an application to join the Board, there is an open invitation for those interested to come along and observe a Board meeting taking place.

Tenants' Handbook - Every tenant is provided with an emailed copy of a handbook when they take over their property and this will be updated from time-to-time (a printed copy may be requested). Contact details are included within the handbook to encourage tenants to contact us at any point if there is something that they are unhappy about. When we re-issue the Tenants' Handbook we will consult on its format and content.

Learning and Development – We will continue to provide involved residents with opportunities to participate in learning and development events that will help them to learn new skills or support the development of existing ones. This may include attendance at relevant conferences and working groups.

Residents' Associations - Residents' Associations are groups of people, whether they are tenants or owners, living in an area, a road or a close for example, who have come together to take up issues of common concern in relation to their housing, community and general environment.

We will continue to support existing Residents' Associations and promote the development of new ones, where it is established there is an interest.

For any of Fife Housing Group's tenants wishing to set up a Residents' Association we will continue to offer grants for specific purposes of up to £50 a year. We will also continue to assist these groups with booking venues for meetings and support them to source funding opportunities.

We currently have two Residents' Associations that represent residents in specific areas, although we do have a number of others currently considering formation. They are each managed by a committee which is democratically elected by its members.

Residents who would like to join or start a Residents' Association should get in touch by contacting us on: Freephone 08000 274 007.

Holding local events – We aim to build on the previous success of our senior citizens events held in Rosyth and Dunfermline, targeting specific groups, including the elderly, to address any concerns, address social issues like loneliness and provide information on support available.

We also plan to hold information days, possibly sometimes with an act or public speaker. These events are likely to be based on, 'come along and tell us what works well and what doesn't'.

Organising hot topic groups – We recognise that, periodically, multi-faceted 'burning issues' can develop in individual blocks, individual streets or in local communities. In order to prevent such problems escalating in an area or when common themes can be identified, we believe holding discussions with 'hot topic groups' could be a potential way forward to addressing such problems.

Where appropriate, 'hot topic groups' will, therefore, be organised with local residents. During these meetings, participants will be asked to highlight their top three concerns, these will then be discussed and agreed actions put in place. We will have to take care though to ensure that we are not raising expectations where we are not able to deliver.
